

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased by 1.5 million (1990–1999) and the number of people in the public sector has increased by 2.5 million (1990–1999) (Department of Health 2000).

There is a growing emphasis on the need to improve the efficiency of the public sector and to ensure that the public sector is able to deliver the best possible value for money. This has led to a number of initiatives, including the introduction of the Health Service Act 1999, the Health Service Act 2001, and the Health Service Act 2004. These initiatives have led to a number of changes in the way the public sector is organised and managed, and have led to a number of improvements in the way the public sector delivers services.
